Creature Care Club- Sahara Roset

The CCC aka Creature Care Club is my main focus every day. People leaving their pets home each day, while they're at work made me sad for the animals, I decided to do something about it. My love of animals gave me a great idea to make my own club. I realized being homeschooled gave me free time during the day that others don't have. I realized I could walk them, feed them and even just play with them while their owners are away. I love animals! I care for each one. But some of them I don't like. So I have lots of members to help me out. I called it the CCC, aka, the creature care club because I wanted to include my friends in my business! I have tons of members already. They help when I get a job and I can't take it, I call my members and ask them instead.

I am a walking ad when I take my own dogs for walks, I always take my cool flyers with me just in case I find a new client. That helps a lot when I give out flyers cause people see I am responsible. I am working on a new poster to put up around town, for example at the SPCA. I have set up a Facebook page to advertise my business. I also go door to door, giving out leaflets. I do all these things to spark peoples interest.

My other favourite hobby is my graphic novel writing. I have started over 50 novels so far and 7 completed ones. It all began when I was introduced to Raina Telgemeier's graphic novels based on Ann m. Martin novel Baby-sitters club. I went looking for more graphic novels until I found out they weren't making them as fast as I could read them. So I decided to make my own. My very first book " twenty miles ahead ", featured a character called Coconut! And since then I have developed millions of other characters too. I know my writing will make money some day but for now I hope to make lots of money with the CCC to support my writing.

If I won $500 I would use most of the money to give to the poor, maybe to some schools and to people on the streets. I will use $300 for most of that and save the other money to make more for the good :)
